WILL CONTINUE MINIMUM HOG PRICES

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26. — Decision as to the continuance of the food administration's minimum hog price policy after midnight Friday, expected today by Frank S. Snyder, chief of the meat division will not be made until President Wilson has determined the question of embargo and affecting neutrals and other countries. This became known tonight after food administration officials had conferred with the war trade board and later with President Wilson at the white house during the meeting of the "war cabinet."

Mr. Snyder had announced that a statement concerning the government's policy as to hog prices would be made during the day, but after the white house conference food administration officials explained there would be no further need of maintaining a minimum price if the world markets could be opened up to free trading in pork. This question was

Tonight at the newspapermen's banquet at Indianapolis Mrs. McNeill McCormick, chairman of the Republican Women's National committee, will make the principal address. Mrs. McCormick will appear in place of Will Hays, as chairman of the Republican national committee, who is unable to be present. The foregoing sentence is a simple statement of fact, but my! how times have changed.

A supply of 85,000 German helmets has been shipped from overseas for advertising purposes in connection with the next Liberty loan. The helmets have been sent in such vast quantities that they are as common now as iron crosses were at one time in the German realm. In fact, there are so many helmets that the advertising value is gone.

A cable news story says that the Soviet government had limited the number of baths which Russians may take at the Moscow beaches. Since the temperature there is now about 50 degrees below zero, it is surprising that there are not some questions of greater pressing interest for the law makers to consider. And speaking of bathing, it's not a Russian national habit.

The latest figures show that the money in circulation in the U. S. is now $7,780,793,606, according to treasury department report. This is the highest point ever reached and means an average of more than $55 for every man, woman and child. The figures show that the per capita income has been $7 in a year's time, but it is best not to talk much about the present buying power of a dollar, by comparison with some other times.

DON'T FORGET THE DATES

Eighty-five thousand dollars of subscriptions toward a sum total of $125,000 is a mighty good record. This is especially true when it is remembered that the record was made in two days' time. The rest of the money will come very speedily and the joint committee will doubtless be in position to exercise its options on the land needed for this water project.

The success of this popular subscription movement shows how quickly a good work may be accomplished when people are thoroughly in earnest.

Someone has hazarded a guess that while most citizens have an opinion on the league of nations plan, not one in 100,000 really knows anything about that plan. That is just the present trouble in the U. S. senate. Some of the members are of inquiring mind and want to know what membership in the league involves. Every peace-loving citizen is enthusiastic about the purpose of the league, but the purpose and conditions of membership are quite different matters.

In another column E. E. Crabtree, candidate for the Republican nomination for mayor, makes a clear statement that in announcing his intention to serve without pay or as "a dollar a year man," if elected mayor, that he is not seeking to decide this salary question for the aldermen. Mr. Crabtree holds that this is a matter for each individual to decide and all candidates have the certain right of separate opinion. Evidently Mr. Crabtree is convinced that so far as he is concerned the no salary program is the right thing in a "for Jacksonville program," but he has no desire to dictate to aldermen what they shall do in the matter.

MR. THOMPSON IS QUALIFIED

When you think of the election for county commissioner next Saturday remember that M. Clarence Thompson is the candidate on the Republican ticket. Mr. Thompson, who for a number of years was in business in Jacksonville, has spent most of his life on a farm northwest of the city. He is known as the fair and square type with sound business judgment. He can safely be trusted with the duties of the county commissioner's office and if elected it will be his endeavor to co-operate with other members of the board in seeking the best things for Morgan county.

Heart Failure.

Today I sought the grocer's store to buy an artichoke; my soul was sad, my head was sore, for I was nearly broke. Through four long years of stress and strife I've seen the prices rise; the cost of things has spoiled my life, and kept me heaving sighs. No matter what I wished to buy, a penknife or a pup, I always heard the merchant cry, "The prices have gone up." So I was full of unshed tears, and I was grim and cross; I wore crape tassels on my ears, I felt a total loss. I bought my artichoke and cried, "How much are yonder eggs?" The grocer glanced around my way, and seemed to wear a frown, and then methought I heard him say, "The price of eggs is down." I said, "My ears are on the blink, or else I am insane, I'll have to see the doc, I think—just make that spiel again!" The grocer looked with dreamy eyes upon the drowsy town, and said, between a brace of sighs, "The price of eggs is down." Oh yes, I'm con-valescent now; I got this broken head, and this big bruise upon my brow, when I fell over dead.

Entertained in Honor of Miss Potts.

Miss Maria Fairbank entertained members of Wednesday Class at a buffet dinner Wednesday night, at her home on Caldwell street in honor of Miss Mabel Potts, who is soon to leave for the western coast. Active members of the class, together with a number of honorary members, were present. In the afternoon the regular class program was given. Mrs. A. L. Adams presented a very valuable paper on "The Rockefeller Foundation." After the dinner had been served Dr. Josephine Milligan talked for more than an hour in a delightful informal way about her experiences overseas. Miss Potts, who as indicated is soon to leave for the west, will spend a year or more at Eugene, Ore., where Mrs. Nell Capps Tingle, Miss Alice Capps and Mrs. Hester Capps, are now living.

CAPT. NORBURY NOW

A cablegram received by Mrs. Garm Norbury from overseas brought the news that her husband is now Capt. Norbury, having recently received this preferment. Those who are familiar with Capt. Norbury's spirit and ability have no doubt but that the promotion has been well bestowed. The cablegram was from St. Nazaire, the same town where Capt. Norbury's brother-in-law, James Barnes of the marines, has been stationed for a number of weeks. As this is a port it is quite probable that Capt. Norbury may be coming home at no distant date.

ARGUMENT FOR HARD ROAD BY SOUTH ROUTE

Further Hearing on Proposed Highway Improvement Between Springfield and Jacksonville—Argument by W. T. Wilson.

The hearing as to location of routes 10 and 3 between Jacksonville and Springfield was continued before the highway department in Springfield yesterday. At a previous time argument had been made on behalf of residents along the old state road, in the endeavor to show that it would be the logical route for a paved road connecting Springfield and Jacksonville. Yesterday the advocates of the south route had an inning and were represented by William T. Wilson. A map so prepared that it outlined both possible routes was explained by Mr. Wilson and filed with the department, together with a somewhat extensive argument. It was the claim of Mr. Wilson that the south route presented far less expense in the matter of grading and was several miles shorter than the old state road.

The map indicated that the road from Berlin west to Jacksonville is practically a straight line. The attorney also gave some figures to show the advantage of the south route by comparing the population which would be served by the south route. Due emphasis was laid upon the fact that the legislature in outlining route 3 shall run from Beardstown to Virginia, Asland and Alexander, specified that it should connect there with route No. 10, running between Alexander and Jacksonville. This Mr. Wilson said, was a plain indication of the intention to have route 10 run over the southern line, which his clients are advocating. Some paragraphs from the written argument are given below:

Alexander is specifically mentioned in the description of Route No. 3. Moreover, from the description of Route No. 3 it is clear that the legislature contemplated that Route No. 10, running between Alexander and Jacksonville, for it is therein stated that it is to run over Route 10 between Alexander and Jacksonville, Route No. 10, must, therefore, under the statute, connect Springfield, Alexander and Jacksonville; furthermore, it is one of the communities which intervene between the two cities named, and according to the true meaning of the law, it is entitled to be connected by means of the improvement with said cities.

There is a practically straight, and almost level road commonly known as the "Morton Road" which runs from the east end of what is known as Morton Avenue in Jacksonville, thru Arnold, directly to Alexander, and thence again nearly as directly to New Berlin a distance of 17½ miles. A reference to the plat, "Exhibit A" presented herewith, will show that to all intents and purposes, the road is perfectly straight. It is as nearly level as any road of that length that can be found. It traverses level prairie land and, as it stands, is an ideal location for the proposed improvement. It is the only road which touches and connects the communities which intervene between Jacksonville and Springfield. This is the only road which conforms to the clear purpose of the Act, and affords the communities between Jacksonville and Springfield reasonable connections. It offers the fewest possible obstacles to the builder.

Bridges.

On this route between New Berlin and Jacksonville, there are the following bridges: One six feet long, one ten feet long, two twelve feet in length, one sixteen feet and one twenty feet. Most of these can easily be shortened. There will, apparently, be no occasion for excessive outlay for approaches or other expensive construction, of any kind, in connection with bridges along the line of the road.

Curves.

The entire route of this road between New Berlin and Jacksonville is almost free of turns or curves. There is one turn in the village of New Berlin, and there occur two around the public square in the Town of Alexander. These turns occur on wide roads with wholly unobstructed views from either approach. The few angles or curves on the route are easy, in full view and wholly unobstructed.

Railroad Crossings.

With the construction of a subway under the Wabash Railroad, at Arnold, in Morgan County, there was practically arranged before the beginning of the war, and when the change in the road at Island Grove has been accomplished, there will be no railroad crossings at grade between New Berlin and Jacksonville. The Morton Road now comes into Jacksonville thru a subway at the Allen Railroad, and upon an over-head bridge at the Burlington Railroad, so that when the elimination of the crossing at Arnold by means of the proposed subway there, and by the slight change in the course of the road at Island Grove, eliminating two crossings at that point, you will have 17½ miles of road altogether free of grade crossings. This consideration alone should weigh heavily in the selection of this route.

Trade and Commerce.

The South Road, also called the Morton Road traverses the richest agricultural section of Central Illinois, and on it are located the markets and stores which serve this section.

Arnold has a post office, a railroad station, a large general store, an elevator, stock yards and shop.

Orleans has a post office, a railroad station, a general store, an elevator and stock yards.

Alexander has a bank, a post office, a railroad station, several good stores, various shops, elevator, stock yards, a large rural school and several churches.

Brown's Crossing is a stopping point for passenger trains.

Island Grove has an elevator and stock yards.

New Berlin, the commercial center of the Western portion of Sangamon County, is an important business place, having a post office, with several mail carriers, two strong banks, numerous stores and shops, grain elevators, stock yards, a large rural school, a "Two Township" high school, and several churches. Its population in 1910 was 690.

Population.

The South or Morton Road affords much more convenient travel for people living in the Southeastern part of Morgan County, who number according to the last census 5,426 people. The situation as regards population in the Western portion of Sangamon County, is similar to that in the Eastern portion of Morgan county. While no accurate information will be available until a new census, a glance at the last census figures will show conclusively that there is a greater population within any given distance under fifteen miles, of the South or Morton Road, than of the North or State Road, for Morgan County is much more densely populated South of Morton Road than it is North of the State Road, and moreover, farm products and commerce adjacent to the Morton Road is immeasurably greater than that adjacent to and North of the State Road.

To locate the route of the bond issue road between Alexander and Jacksonville elsewhere than on the direct, straight and almost level road between the two points is to reverse the decision of the State Railroad Commissioners, made eighty years ago, the correctness of which has never been questioned, the joint decision of the State Highway Department and County Board of Morgan County made a few years ago, and the Act of the Legislature of 1917, approved by the voters in 1918.

Objections to the North or State Road.

Route No. 10 cannot, as it seems to us, be definitely located on the North Road, also called the State Road, without doing violence to the act of the legislature in this matter. Between Springfield and Jacksonville there are no communities on said road. Old Berlin long ago ceased to be a business center, for new Berlin has altogether taken its place, so far as business is concerned. There being no intervening communities, therefore, between Springfield and Jacksonville on the State Road, it cannot be said to come within contemplation of the Act under consideration. There are no elevators, no banks, no post offices, nor railroad stations, or other business places along its route. It accordingly, serves no communities which intervene between Jacksonville and Springfield.

The location of Route 10 on the State Road, instead of connecting the intervening communities between Jacksonville and Springfield, would most effectively do the contrary thing, and isolate such intervening communities.

The State Road, while it has some level tracts, has many large hills, it has also numerous curves and turns, there being thirty such curves and turns between Old Berlin and Jacksonville, some of them occurring on the sides of hills, so that travel at these points is rendered dangerous. These natural obstacles will render construction much more costly. There will be required a great deal of grading and filling, as well as a number of road alterations.

The North Road, besides being hilly and having numerous curves and turns, will still have the further objection that at East State Street in Jacksonville, it must cross six railroad tracks, besides the grade crossings with railroads near Springfield. While this road passes by means of a subway under the Wabash Railroad, at East State street in Jacksonville, yet it should be observed that the approach to this subway is thru a deep cut, with high banks on either side, there being a curve into this cut at the West end thereof, with what may be called double curve at the Eastern end.

COUPLE UNDER ARREST ON SUSPICION

Man and Girl Tramping Through Country are Held at County Jail—Man Says Girl is His Daughter.

Sunday afternoon, late, Sheriff Weatherford and Deputies Wright and Andrews arrested a man and girl near Concord and brought them to the city where they were placed in the county jail.

The man is about 40 years of age and the girl about 13 years of age. They aroused the suspicions of residents in the Crackers Bend neighborhood where they were enquiring for a school house in which to spend the night.

They would not talk about themselves or where they were going. The sheriff was notified and went out but had to follow the couple to Concord. Arriving there they found the couple in custody of Policeman Delaney of Concord.

The man gave his name as Lewis and the girl's name as Helen Lewis, saying she was his daughter. Lewis says his mother lives in Decatur and officers in that city have been communicated with in an endeavor to find out something about the case. Sheriff Weatherford said last night that he would hold them until he heard from Decatur.

NATIONAL DAYLIGHT SAVING LAW URGED
WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—Prediction of labor leaders that a national daylight saving law making all working hours daylight hours, would reduce the number of industrial accidents was borne out in the past year, said Frank Morrison, secretary of the American Federation of Labor in a statement today urging that the law be not repealed.

Provision for repeal of the act has been attached by the senate agriculture committee as a rider to the annual agricultural appropriation bill.

Secretary Morrison cited statistics on industrial accidents in Pennsylvania showing that in 1918 under operation of the daylight saving law the number of accidents was 3,036 less than in 1917 and 70,772 less than in 1916. This is due he said to the fact that the late afternoon hours when physical energy is at its lowest ebb have been eliminated from the work day and given over to recreation.

CAS MASKS OF NO USE TO COAL MINERS

WASHINGTON, Feb. 26.—Army gas masks are of no value in protecting coal miners against mine gases and only of slight value in protecting workers from ammonia fumes, Lieut. Col. B. C. Goss, head of the sales and salvage section of the army chemical warfare division declared today in issuing a general warning against their use for these purposes.

Colonel Goss said serious losses of life were feared unless warnings reached purchasers of the masks who were being misled as to their capabilities by dealers who have purchased large numbers of them from the government since the war ended.

"The army mask," said Colonel Goss, "does have considerable value against ordinary smoke and fire fumes and we are considering plans to distribute masks in quantities to city fire departments for that purpose."

"The government has sold quantities of the masks at a price of $1 for used and $3 for unused, chiefly in the belief that they would be considered as souvenirs."

200 NURSES WANTED
Washington, Feb. 26.—The American Red Cross today issued a call for 200 trained men to aid in the recreational work for convalescing American soldiers, sailors and marines in about fifty reconstruction hospitals in this country. The men needed, it was said, include 50 band and orchestra leaders, 50 song leaders, 50 dramatic instructors and 50 men to promote games.

OBJECTORS RETURN MONEY
Washington, Feb. 26.—Conscientious objectors have returned approximately $20,000 of the money paid them, the war department announced today. Of this sum $4,319 has been received by the war department, $4,000 by the friends of the objectors.

It is estimated that the 1200 objectors who were given farm furloughs, have sent to the Red Cross $10,000, representing a difference between the dollar a day rate paid to soldiers and the prevailing wages received by these men.

SPANISH INFLUENZA Yields to Old-fashioned Remedy

Recent research tells us that the Spanish Influenza germ and the la grippe germ are much alike.

The sneezing, the racking cough and the inflammation in chest and throat of Spanish Influenza are swiftly relieved by the old-fashioned cold remedy of goose-grease and turpentine.

Science has proved this splendid old remedy by adding to it menthol, wintergreen and other healing oils whose fumes inhaled bring relief in twenty minutes.

This new-old remedy is MEN-THO-EZE.

As Spanish Influenza is still spreading, there should surely be a jar of MEN-THO-EZE ready at hand in your home — preparedness pays.

WILSON FAILS TO CHANGE VIEWS OF LEAGUE OPPOSERS

dent stated, thru the reference of the questions on various subjects which have been referred to international commissions.

On the question of possible interference by the league with internal domestic questions, such as immigration, the president told the senators he did not regard such questions as being within the purview or jurisdiction of the league. Success of the league the president said was to feel, rests on the good will and good faith of the nations and not upon their potential power.

Upon the moral force of the world the decrees of the league would depend the president explained. He expressed the opinion that if Germany had considered a week, or if she had known England would enter the war, the great conflict would not have occurred.

Cite Mexican and Jap Problems

In the discussion of the composition of the league and executive council the Mexican and Japanese problems with which the United States is concerned were reported to have been freely used as illustrations. In this connection it was said that the president presented the argument that American immigration would be a question determined by the league. Questions regarding Great Britain's five votes in the league and the possibility of the British Empire acquiring more than one vote in the executive council elicited the statement from the president that such a possibility was very remote as the four votes in the league outside of the great powers were demanded by the smaller nations and that election would be made by the forty or fifty nations comprised in the league.

The president was said to have given no indication as to his opinion regarding when the peace treaty could be concluded, nor did he discuss his plans for the return trip to France, or that to reiterate that he would leave Washington immediately after congress adjourned.

The dinner and discussion following in the East Room were said to have been marked by the greatest cordiality and frankness. The president frequently was interrupted at his own request by questions. At the outset he said too much importance should be attached to debate in congress and he declared his intention was merely to explain fully questions of construction to those desiring to hear them.

He then gave a description of the intricate methods of bringing together the representatives of all nations for the formation of a league and declared he had found practically a universal demand in Europe for a league of nations. He said the people there suffered so tremendously from the war that they were determined the old system must cease and some concert of nations formed to end war. According to one of the Democrats, Senator Brandegee, said to the president:

League Will Not Stop War.

"Mr. President, this league of nations will not prevent war."

"It will not," said the president. "Nothing will prevent war, but it will bring about a discussion before the beginning of a war. If there had been one week's discussion before the beginning of the European war it would not have occurred."

One senator pressed inquiries relating to the Irish question and the president was said to have answered Ireland would have no vote in the league, "at present," and that the Irish question was one for later solution between Ireland and England.

During the discussion the president also indirectly repeated his declaration made in his Boston speech that the organization of the league would tend to stop the spread of Bolshevism.

Flood Favors League.

After the conference Chairman Flood of the house committee announced himself "heartily in favor of the constitution presented."

The senators and representatives were received by the President and Mrs. Wilson in the east room, proceeding informally to the state dining room, Senator Lodge escorting Mrs. Wilson. There they were seated at a table decorated with pink roses and maiden hair fern, the president in the center of one side, Chairman Hitchcock of the senate committee on his right, and Chairman Flood of the house committee on his left. Across the table was Mrs. Wilson, with the two ranking minority members, Senator Lodge and Representative Cooper, on her right and left, respectively.

After the dinner the gentlemen returned to the East Room, lighted their cigars and conversed informally for ten minutes after which chairs were drawn into an irregular oval. President Wilson at one end and discussion of the league started.

Senators Borah of Idaho and Fall of New Mexico, Republicans, and Representative Dorsy W. Shackelford, of Missouri, Democrat, were the only members absent. The two senators declined because, they said, they did not follow tradition and consider themselves bound to silence as to what the President might think and because they thought he should take the whole conference into his confidence.

NO SALARY PROGRAM IN AFFAIRS OF CITY

E. E. Crabtree Candidate for Nominating for Mayor

Talking about the no-salary program in city government, Edgar E. Crabtree, candidate for Republican nomination for mayor, said yesterday: "I know that it has a familiar sound when a candidate says that he has entered the list because 'many friends' have advocated his candidacy. Nevertheless, I think the facts will bear me out in saying that I did consent to the filing of my petition after a considerable number of people had urged me to become a candidate."

"When I did finally make the decision, I also determined that if nominated and elected, I would hold the office without salary—that is, serve as a dollar a year man." Under some conditions this might not be a reasonable program, but it seems to me that an emergency condition exists in the financial affairs of Jacksonville and that every saving possible will bring the day closer when the city will be able to meet its daily financial obligations, and pay its employees in real money, instead of giving them approved bills which they must discount in order to secure cash.

"If nominated and elected mayor, it is my expectation to devote the needed time to the work of the office, but frankly I expect to so arrange my affairs that my regular business will not be interfered with, nor my yearly income lessened. Under these circumstances I naturally prefer to hold the office without salary, and in fact, that is the only condition under which I would be willing to serve. But in emphasizing the desirability of this no salary program at this time, I have no thought of insisting that others should adopt the same policy if their judgment does not indicate the course as best. When elected aldermen and a mayor are chosen at the regular election in April it will be within their power to fix the salaries. If the majority of aldermen believe that salaries should be drawn, they will have the power to take this action. It is a matter for individual opinion and I have no criticism for any aldermanic candidate who believes that a no salary platform is not desirable for all."

DR. JORDAN HEARD IN HELPFUL ADDRESS

Dr. L. F. Jordan, pastor of the Christian church at Evanston, who is here for special services at Illinois college, made an address last night on the subject, "Can An Intellectual Man Be A Religious Man?" The minister was heard with special interest at the chapel service of the college Wednesday morning, his theme being, "The Lesson of the Reconstruction Days." Some interesting war facts were traced out and the minister gave special prominence to the thought that the world today is crying for leadership and the opportunities for Christian service on the part of both young men and young women were never greater. Then Dr. Jordan told his hearers that underlying all must be religion, for without it no nation can endure, as history so abundantly has taught. Dr. Jordan is to speak again this morning at the chapel exercises and tonight at 7 o'clock. His talks are of great inspirational value and many friends of the college in addition to the students are enjoying them.

It Led Then and Leads Now

Hudson Super Six Gained Its Leadership on the Speedway. It Maintains It With 60,000 Users

The records Hudsons made in the tests that prove endurance are just as important today as they were when made three years ago.

That was the only way then in which it could be proved a life car. The abuse which only the speedway and the hardest touring and hill climbing would reveal in a few hours had to be used to demonstrate Hudson limits of endurance. Ordinary driving was too slow.

Now 60,000 users through every kind of service and neglect are individually confirming what was shown in those tests. They have established the leadership of Hudson Super-Six in every way that proves performance and long life.

Rival's Imitations Make It the Pattern Car

Every car produced since Hudson Super-Six design showed the importance of minimizing motor vibration, as it does with its exclusive motor, has reflected Hudson leadership. First it was mechanical leadership. Now it is in body designing as well, that others look to Hudson.

This year's auto shows reveal that influence. Comparison of most cars with earlier Hudson models show it. Present Hudson models in such types as the Sedan, the Touring Limousine, Coupe and others are regarded as forecasts of what others will offer next fall.

When you get a Hudson you may expect to see a similar type on models which others bring out six months to a year hence. But there is a shortage of Hudsons this spring as there has been every spring for the past three years. You should speak early to assure delivery.

THE NEW ERA EXCO CONFERENCE

A great deal of interest attaches to the echo conference of the New Era movement which will be held at Northminster church this afternoon and evening. Members of the various churches are invited to attend the sessions of the day, which will begin at 1:30 o'clock p. m. Supper will be served at 6:15 o'clock. A number of the speakers will be made by the Four Minute men at the evening meeting.

The echo conference held at Springfield Wednesday was an enthusiastic gathering and the same was true of the conference in Decatur on Tuesday. T. M. Tomlinson, who attended the conference in Springfield yesterday said last night that the addresses were remarkably fine and that the members of the churches here will miss a great deal if they fail to attend the sessions.

All persons who expect to be present at the supper should notify Dr. E. B. Landis this morning, if tickets have not already been procured.

OLD JACKSONVILLE

WHERE ONE GOVERNOR LIVED AND ANOTHER WAS BORN

By Ensley Moore
(Member Illinois State Historical Society)

The accompanying cut illustrates the home of Richard Yates, the Greatest War Governor. A part of the house is now the east end of "Our Saviour's Hospital," on East State Street.

The writer asked the late Rev. Charles B. Barton, of the class of 1839 of Illinois College, what sort of a young fellow Richard Yates was.

Mr. Barton replied: "A fine young man—a lovable youth."

Illinois, and many another state, in the old war days, echoed the praise of Mr. Barton, adding "a delightful man—a heroic figure in history."

No old resident of Jacksonville needs to be told about the Yates', but younger citizens may need some information.

the same lot on which the brick residence was afterwards erected. The bride of that day was scarcely seventeen years of age.

Children.

William, who was struck by lightning, and killed, in his eleventh year; Mary, who died in infancy; Henry, born in 1848, who died in 1903; Catherine, born in 1850, who died in 1888, and Richard, born in 1849, came to the young parents—all presumably in the little white house, except Richard.

A New House.
Mr. Yates, in 1859, had built and entered into the residence pictured with this sketch, and in that reconstructed dwelling, the second governor was born. But the family he scarcely entered the handsome new home before Mr. Yates was elected Governor, in 1860, the year of Lincoln's accession to the presidency. Little did Yates or Lincoln realize, in May, 1860 the "time" for which they had been nominated.

And little did Yates enjoy of his fine new home, for, four years thereafter, he lived in the Executive Mansion, at Springfield, and six years afterwards were mostly spent, as Senator of the United States, in Washington, his term expiring March 4th, 1871.

But there the boy destined to fill his father's office lived about fifteen years.

The Old Governor comes home Thanksgiving day, 1873—November 27th—the former Governor and Senator "passed over the Divide" and all that was mortal of Richard Yates was brought back to his wife and children in the home place. Thence he was carried on November 30th, to Strawn's Hall, crowded with loving friends, and thence that afternoon the long procession followed the War Governor to his rest, beside Willie, whom he had never forgotten, in our East cemetery.

The Second Governor.
Mrs. Yates made the gothic house her home for some years, while the children were growing up, and "Young Dick" was following

A Student.

Richard Yates, born in Kentucky in the second decade of the last century, coming to Sangamon county, Illinois—with his father, Henry—became one of the first students of Illinois College, and with another young man, was in the first graduating class, in 1835. He studied law with Col. John J. Hardin, and made this his home.

Marries.

There was a pretty young girl here, also from Kentucky, the daughter of Mr. William Geers, and her dark eyes fascinated the coming statesman. They were married July 9, 1839, and then, or soon after, occupied a story-and-a-half white frame house, an

DR. C. E. SCOTT IS INJURED IN HOLDUP

Jacksonville Man Badly Used up While Waiting for Train at Carthage, Mo.

Dr. Charles E. Scott will be out today, the first time for more than a week. Dr. Scott has been suffering from the effects of a hold up at Carthage, Mo., whereby he received severe cuts on the head and hand and sustained the loss of a valuable diamond ring and a considerable amount of money. It was while he was in Missouri on a business trip in connection with the farm that he owns near Lamar that the happening took place. Dr. Scott was at the station in Carthage and just two or three minutes before the train was due he was assaulted by two or three men, knocked down and his ring and money taken. Trainmen later came to his aid and he was cared for at a hospital for a number of days until he was able to travel, and then came to his home here, where he has been under the care of a physician.

Two men have been arrested at Carthage, charged with complicity in the hold up. In its general details this holdup was of a kind similar to those which have been occurring frequently of late, especially in the larger cities. Dr. Scott thinks this is an indication of present industrial unrest.

MILLIONS MUST GET BUSY ON TAX RETURNS

Every Single Man Who Earned $1,000 or More and Every Married Man Who Earned $2,000 or More in 1918 Must Make a Detailed Report By March 15.

Washington, Feb. 26.—Within the next three weeks, or by March 15, every unmarried man or woman who earned $1,000 or more in the calendar year 1918 and every married person whose income amounted to $2,000 or more must make a detailed report of his income to the federal revenue collector of his district. On or before March 15 the first installment of the income tax must be paid, one-fourth of the entire amount due, or all of it if the taxpayer chooses.

This means that millions of Americans must get to work at once to prepare their returns, and for the guidance of tax payers, the internal revenue bureau has issued explicit instructions covering the preparation and filing of returns. This is the A B C of the procedure.

First get a tax return form from the revenue collector's office or from a bank. There are many kinds of these forms. If a person's income was below $5,000 he should ask for the form especially intended for the smaller incomes. It might be advisable to get two or three of these forms, since one may be spoiled in the preparation. The form is a six-page printed sheet, with detailed instructions for reporting various items of income and for calculating the tax due. By following this form closely even an inexperienced person probably will have little difficulty, particularly if his source of income was not complicated or if it was in wages rather than in business transactions.

How to Calculate Tax.

The tax rate for most individuals is 6 per cent. For a single person this is imposed on the difference between the total net income for the year and $1,000, the so-called exempted amount. For a married man, or for the head of a family, the exemption is $2,000 and the 6 per cent tax is imposed on the difference between that and the total income. There is provision for an additional exemption of $200 for each child or other dependent person, under eighteen years of age or incapable of self-support. Thus a married man with one child or an aged parent would have an exemption of $2,200 and would pay tax on the difference between this and his net income. A man with two children would have an exemption of $2,400; three children $2,600, and so on.

To illustrate the calculation of tax: A single man with a net income last year of $2,000 will be taxed $60; income of $3,000, tax $120; income of $4,000, tax $180; income $5,000, tax $240.

A married man without children and with an income of $2,500 last year will pay a tax of $50; income $3,000, tax $60; income of $4,000, tax $120; income of $5,000, tax $180.

When Surplus Is Imposed.

The regular or normal tax is 12 per cent on incomes of more than $5,000 in case of unmarried persons and more than $6,000 in the case of married persons without children. In other words, the tax is doubled on incomes of $4,000 more than the specific exemption. In addition, so-called surtaxes superimposed on the regular or normal tax are assessed on net incomes of more than $5,000, the additional rate being 1 per cent for the first $1,000 above the sum, 2 per cent for the next $2,000, 3 per cent for the next $2,000 and one per cent increase for each additional $2,000. Both the 12 per cent rate and the surtaxes may be ignored by persons with incomes of less than $5,000.

After the tax is figured, a person must count at least on paying one-fourth of the sum by March 15. The second installment of one-fourth is due June 15th; the third-quarter, September 15; and the last installment, December 15. Penalties are provided for failure to file on time or to pay the tax promptly, and tax officials welcome returns and payments before March 15. Payment in full by March 15 also will be welcomed on the ground that the government needs the money.

A husband and wife whose combined net income for 1918 amounted to $2,000 or more must file a return either separately or jointly. If separate returns are filed, either may claim the personal exemption of $2,000, or this exemption may be divided. Earnings of dependent children must be included as part of the income of the head of the family. If an unmarried person supports either partially or wholly a parent or some other relative or friend, not living in the same household, this person is not considered the head of a family and is therefore entitled only to the $1,000 exemption. If the parent is wholly dependent, however, and lives in the taxpayer's household, this makes the unmarried person the "head of the family."

If, because of the special exemptions for children and dependents or because of the exemption of soldier's and sailor's pay, an unmarried person's income of more than $1,000 or a married person's income of more than $2,000 is found not to be taxable, this condition does not free the individual from filing a return. Thus many persons who do not have to pay a tax must file returns.

A head of a family is described officially as "a person who supports one or more persons closely connected with him by blood relationship, relationship by marriage, or adoption." The compensation in 1918 of a man in the military or naval service either as an enlisted man or an officer, is wholly exempt from taxation, provided this did not exceed $3,500. Income of soldiers or sailors from private sources is taxable, however, if it exceeds the exemptions.

In figuring net incomes, deductions may not be made for personal, family or living expenses.

The law does provide for a number of deductions, however, from gross income, and these are of interest mainly to men who made a living out of business enterprises. These allowable deductions include the following items:

Expenses to Be Deducted.

Expenses paid or incurred during 1918 in carrying on any trade or business, including rentals and a reasonable allowance for salaries.

Interest paid or accrued in 1918, except on indebtedness incurred for the purchase of tax exempt stocks or bonds.

Taxes paid or accrued, except income, war profits and excess profits taxes and those assessed against local benefits of a kind tending to improve the value of property.

Losses in business or trade, if not compensated for by insurance or otherwise.

Losses in any transaction entered into for profit in some side line of business.

Losses of property not connected with the taxpayer's regular business if arising from fires, storms or other casualties, if not covered by insurance.

Worthless debts charged off during the year.

A reasonable allowance for depreciation of property used in business or trade.

Allowance for Depreciation.

A reasonable allowance for depreciation as well as depreciation of property in the cases of mines, oil and gas wells and other natural deposits.

Contributions to concerns operated exclusively for charitable, religious, educational or scientific purposes, not in excess of 15 per cent of the taxpayer's net income.

Amortization on buildings, machinery, equipment or other facilities constructed or acquired for the production of articles contributing to the prosecution of the war.

The preceding items must be reported in the return and deducted according to the method set forth in the return blank form.

The following items are exempt from taxation and need not be included in the returns:

Proceeds of life insurance policies, returns of premiums on life endowment and annuity policies; gifts, bequests or inheritances (income from gifts is taxable, however); interest on bonds of any state, county or municipality; interest on farm loan bonds; interest on $5,000 or less on Liberty Bonds, and on larger amounts in certain cases provided by the bond act; payments on account of accident or health insurance or under workman's compensation acts.

System to Detect Fraud

To detect inaccuracies or fraud in returns, the Internal Revenue Bureau has instituted a system of checking returns with other reports required from all persons or interests which paid out $1,000 or more to any individual during the year. The latter reports constitute the tax collecting machinery's "information at the source" which proved so valuable last year in preventing tax dodging.

In addition to income taxes, there is a multiplicity of other taxes to be assessed this year. Incorporated businesses are required to pay taxes on net incomes at the rate of 12 per cent, with an exemption of $2,000. War profits and excess profits taxes are assessed against corporations only.

The Revenue Bureau has made a provision for accepting tentative estimates of income in cases where tax-payers are not able to figure accurately their incomes before March 15. In these cases, however, an installment payment of one-fourth of the estimated amount is required on that date and tax officials will guard against any attempt to evade or minimize the tax payment then thru setting an unreasonably low estimate.

SECRET OF LONG WEAR IN SHOES FOR BOYS

"Nothing could be more of a tax on soles than the hikes and games of the Boy Scouts, but for durability, comfort and protection in the rain I certainly recommend Neolin Soles. I have two pairs of shoes equipped with them." Scout C. K. Spaulding, of Newton, Mass., who wrote this, speaks from experience.

Thousands and thousands of other active boys who have shoes with Neolin Soles vouch for their long wear. Parents who pay big shoe bills will be interested in this, for Neolin Soles cut those shoe bills down. Buy Neolin-soled shoes, not only for the boys, but for every member of the family. They come in many styles.

Have your worn shoes re-soled with Neolin Soles, too. All good repair shops have them. They are made scientifically by The Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., Akron, Ohio, who also make Wingfoot Heels—guaranteed to outwear any other heel.

NO SALARY AND CITY OFFICIALS.

Editor Journal—

I have been much interested, and somewhat amused, at the various statements of candidates, actual and prospective, as to the no salary idea. Some way it does not seem to strike a harmonious chord in the breasts of these gentlemen. It is contrary to the principles of democracy. With salary is there any object in existence as an office holder? I realize full well that nothing that I can say will interest these gentlemen. For the thinking citizen and taxpayer I wish to suggest a few thoughts.

As to the Mayor. If placed on a purely monetary basis can we buy for $1,200 per year a man competent to run the business? As a business proposition will a man who has worked up to a good steady job paying him $100 per month, give up that job in order to accept the position of mayor for two years? On a monetary basis will any man want the job unless it pays him more than he is now making? If you are going to settle the matter on money worth, look the men over and then ask yourself what is their earning capacity. If we are depending on buying the services of a competent man we can not get him for $1,200 nor for $2,000. As a matter of fact owing to the uncertain tenure, and various other reasons, a $1,200 man can not work for the city for that amount with profit to himself. Jacksonville can not pay the salaries necessary to buy the men it needs. If we get those men it must be for other than salary considerations.

Is it not a fundamental mistake to place the mayor and aldermen on a financial basis? In so doing do we not do one of two things: (1) Get cheap men, worth less on the open market than we pay them or (2) get men, possibly worth more than we pay them but who retain their old positions and who thus give the city but a small part of their brain and energy? In either the city loses.

One of the candidates asks "How can a workingman or a small business man, give his service for no salary?" So far as I can see the working man or small business man is no more precluded than the man of wealth. How much time does it take to be mayor of Jacksonville? How much time to be an alderman? How many hours per day does the successful business man work? The loafing, idle rich men will no more serve the city than the loafing, idle laboring man. The loafing, idle rich man, the situation, and not wealth or its lack. The poor man, the workingman, the small business man in many respects is better in position to serve than the rich man, or the large business man.

We must bear in mind however that no salary does not mean a successful official any more than $2,000 means a successful official. There is for more hope for the official who serves because of interest alone than because of a salary, such a salary as we can pay. A TAXPAYER.

William Graves and William Curtis of the firm of Graves and Curtis of Waverly were the business visitors in the city Wednesday.

PUBLIC SALE 8000-Hedge Posts--8000

I will offer at public sale on March 4, 1918, beginning at 1 o'clock p. m. on that part of my farm two miles north, one mile east and one half mile north of Alexander, five miles south and one half miles east and one mile south of Prentice, 8,000 hedge posts, all sizes and ranging in lengths from seven to eleven feet. Included in the lot are about four hundred No. 1 end or corner posts from ten to eleven feet long. I think this is absolutely the best lot of posts ever offered in one sale in this county, and never again will there be such a grand lot of good posts offered as the hedges have been cut and buying good hedge posts is almost a thing of the past. Any one expecting to use posts within the next four or five years will do well to buy some of these posts and have them in readiness. All sums under $10 cash. Credit of six months, with bankable note drawing 6 per cent interest on all sums over $10.

Millions of Catarrh Germs Afloat in the Air

Atmosphere is Laden With Germs of The Disease.

Every person afflicted with Catarrh releases millions of the tiny disease germs with every cough or sneeze, so that whenever on the street cars or street or other public place you see a person afflicted with this disease hawking and coughing and sneezing, everyone in their vicinity is exposed to the disease.

You along with everyone else will find yourself exposed to the germs of Catarrh several times every day. The germs multiply by the millions, and the air you breathe is thick with these tiny little disease demons that cause so much distress and suffering.

Catarrh is one of the most stubborn diseases, and is always worse in cold, damp and disagreeable weather. It should not, however, be considered incurable, though there are thousands afflicted with it who are doubtless ready to believe that a cure is impossible, because of their experience.

But like all other afflictions, the main trouble is that Catarrh is entirely misunderstood, and therefore treated in the wrong way. Because these little germ demons attack the delicate membranes of the nose and throat, choking up the air passages and irritating the tender lining of the nostrils and bronchial tubes, the average sufferer makes the mistake of treating merely the symptoms of the disease, and overlooks its cause. You must realize that Catarrh is more than a mere local irritation that stops up your nose and irritates your throat and chokes up your breathing apparatus. Your blood is saturated with Catarrh germs, and these will continue their irritating attacks as long as they remain in the blood. The only sensible treatment, therefore, is the one which will rout the disease germs from the blood. This is why the most satisfactory remedy for Catarrh is S. S. S., the famous old reliable blood purifier. S. S. S. has been used successfully for Catarrh for more than fifty years, and it is the one remedy that attacks the source of the disease, cleansing the blood thoroughly, and eliminating from it every trace of disease germs. If you want a remedy that goes direct to the seat of the disease, begin to take S. S. S. to-day, and throw away your atomizers and other local treatment that cannot possibly reach your Catarrh. You will be delighted after giving this remedy a trial, and will soon find yourself on the road to a complete recovery. S. S. S. is sold by druggists everywhere. Begin its use to-day, and write for free medical advice about your own individual case. Address Chief Medical Adviser, 103 Swift Laboratory, Atlanta, Ga.—(Adv.)

Break a Cold In Few Hours

First Dose of "Pape's Cold Compound" Relieves the Cold and Grippe Misery--Don't Stay Stuffed Up!

Relief comes instantly. A dose taken every two hours until three doses are taken will break up and grippe misery and break up a severe cold either in the head, chest, body or limbs.

It promptly opens clogged-up nostrils and air passages in the head, stops nasty discharge or nose running, relieves sick headache, dullness, feverishness, sore throat, sneezing, soreness and stiffness.

Don't stay stuffed-up! Quit blowing and snuffling! Ease your throbbing head! Nothing else in the world gives such prompt relief as "Pape's Cold Compound," which costs only a few cents at any drug store. It acts without assistance, tastes nice, causes no inconvenience. Be sure you get the genuine.

Mothers' Pet Needs a Cascaret

Baby is mad! Doesn't want the favorite dolly, or the horn, or the picture books—but don't scold! Look at the tongue! Then hurry! Give candy Cascarets to work the nasty bile, souring food and constipation poison from the little liver and bowels.

MOTHERS! Clean the clogged-up places. Do away with the bile, sour fermentations and constipation poison which is keeping your little one cross, feverish and sick. Children love Cascarets, because to them it is like eating candy. Cascarets act better than castor oil, calomel or pills on the tender stomach, liver and bowels. Cascarets never gripe, never injure, and do not disappoint the worried mother. Give harmless Cascarets to children one year old and upwards. Each ten cent box contains full directions.

LIEUT. EWERT BACK FROM ARKANSAS

Lieut. Arthur F. Ewert has returned from Arkansas, where he went to make an address before a group of bankers meeting at Ft. Smith. There were 150 bankers in attendance and Lieut. Ewert's address made special reference to the coming liberty loan as a debt of honor. He laid special emphasis on the thought that it should be the earnest purpose of bankers to unite with more vigor even than in the past in making this loan a great success.

If he is able to arrange his plans Lieut. Ewert will return to Arkansas March 11, 12 and 13 for group meetings of bankers which will precede the state convention to be held at Little Rock. It is possible too that Lieut. Ewert will engage in liberty loan work in some of the larger cities of the 8th district during the loan campaign, if he can make satisfactory arrangements with the national service commission of the Presbyterian church, with which he is associated and is here awaiting instructions.

A number of Jacksonville citizens who have heard Lieut. Ewert in a recent address here declared it the best war summary they had heard, and it was due to the enthusiasm thus created that the request came to speak to bankers and to take part in the liberty loan campaign.
